PAWS OF PROMISE

The age-old adage is unfortunately so true – sometimes bad things happen to good people. And their pets. Typically at the most inopportune time as well...Fluffy eating a tube sock at midnight on a Saturday...Spots having a blockage at noon on a Sunday. It can be a scary time, and life-saving emergency veterinary care may not be an expense you've planned for.

Now, Metropolitan Veterinary Associates and Emergency Services has created the Paws of Promise Foundation to help good owners who are having trouble funding a pet's emergency care. Through the generosity of our clients and donors, we are able to provide small grants on an as-needed basis to pets who qualify for our program.

For inquiries and donations, please contact
Stacey Connell, Hospital Administrator.
sconnell@metro-vet.com or 610-666-1050.

To be considered for Paws of Promise funding, the pet must be receiving treatment at MVA, and be either a Good Samaritan case, or a pet whose owners are having significant financial difficulty affording treatment. Funding recipients must have a treatment plan and estimate from MVA and demonstrate that all other payment options have been exhausted including:

- Personal finances (Credit cards and Care Credit)
- Donations from family and friends
- Additional fundraising efforts

The Paws of Promise Foundation is made possible through a partnership with the Veterinary Care Foundation, a 501(c)3 charitable organization. Donations are tax deductible and are used solely for animals in need.
